NO BARGAIN WITH KRUGER.

BRITISH-TRANSPAAL CONFERENCE AT BLOEMFONTEIN A FAILURE.

Question of Granting the Franchise to the Uitlanders Still an Issue-Kruger Made an Arbitration Offer-Mr. Balfour Hopes for a Settlement Later-The London Papers Thinks the Disagreemedt Serious.

Special Cable Despatch to THE BUN. LONDON, June 7 .- It is officially stated that Sir Alfred Milner has given to the Cape newspapers an abstract report of the proceedings of his conference with President Krüger, and that the negotiations were without result. It is reported that President Kruger agreed to submit to the Volksrand the question of granting the franchise to the Uitlanders if the English would submit to arbitration the other differences. Lord Selborne, Parliamentary Secretary the Colonial Office, thinks it improbable that the deliberations will be resumed. He has not seen the official abstract of the conference, he says, and the only news received at the Colonial Office is that the conference has been abortive. The Evening News says that the conference was broken off abruptly and was an utter fail-

In a speech delivered here to-night Mr. Arthur J. Baifour, First Lord of the Treasury, confirmed the reports of the failure of the ne-gotiations at Bloemfontein. He declared that it was a matter of deep regret and disappointment to the Government. Nevertheless, he hoped and believed that the controversics would be satisfactorily solved, because all the Government asked or desired was the elementary rights of civilization for their fellow countrymen in the Transvanl, rights which justice demanded and policy required and which would be, he thought to the firs interest of the republic to grant. It was Great Britain's duty to see that those rights were not trampled recklessly in the dust. No statesman or individual in Great Britain desired that any inroad be made on the independence of the republic. He believed that a settlement could be reached which would rightly preserve the independence of the Transvaal consistently with justice to the British residents, who were giving so much of their wealth to the republic. The opinion of the country must soon be declared on the subject, and he believed that that opinion would be unanimously the same as he had stated.

Bir Charles Dilke, M. P., says he is not surprised at the result. He ldames the Government for entering the conference without hav ing thoroughly considered the issues at stake. The abortive results, he says, will not improve the situation.

The newspapers here regard the failure of the Bloemfontein negotiations as being serious, President Kruger's reported desire to arbitrate the difficulties is generally regarded as impossible, except as an act of grace on sub-ordinate points, such, for instance, as the question of damages growing out of the Jameson raid. The Times says that if a solution i to be found the Government of the Transvaal must immediately abandon the position it has maintained and make up its mind to grant real concessions.

The Standard says: "The situation is grave and critical to the highest degree. All hopwith Mr. Balfourthat the Transvani will per mit us to adhere to the path of friendly adminition, but if stronger measures are required they will have to be taken. President Krüger had his chance during the past few days. It is pretty nearly the last that can be allowed

The Dairy News says that the responsibility resting on the British Government is very grave. It is necessary to obtain a settlement, but the hope of obtaining it by a friendly conference at present has disappeared.

The Morning Post says there is no way of securing the Transvaal's acceptance of the British terms except by the employment of the method that is always used to bridge over an absolute difference of opinion between two Governments on a point which either constders vital. The Daily Graphic declares that the position is serious, but not tragical. It says Great Britain's policy should not be coercion, but pa-

GRAND TRUNK STRIKE RENEWED.

Situation Discussed in the Canadian House of Commons.

OTTAWA. Ontario, June 7.-A discussion over the renewal of the trackmen's strike on the Grand Trunk Hailway arose in the Canadian House of Commons to-day. The Government was asked whether it was the intention to in tervene between the strikers and the Grand Trunk authorities in the interest of public safety, as it was feared that at any moment the situation might become dangerous. The Pr me Minister stated that personally his sympathies were with the trackmen and he had already forwarded their representations to the tieneral Manager, but further communication ceased upon the report that the men had returned to their duties. Now that the strike was renewed if the men again applied to the Government to use its influence in their behalf they would find him ready.

Grave apprehension is felt here, as the strikers are growing desperate. They say that Manager Hayes has not kept faith with them. The number on strike is 1,800. safety, as it was feared that at any moment the

SUMMER FLOOD IN TEXAS.

Colorado River Rises Eighteen Feet Suddenly-Big Test of Austin's Dam AUSTIN, Tex., June 7.- The Colorado Rive and its tributaries are higher than known for thirty years. At Kingsland, 100 miles above here, an eighteen-foot rise occurred suddenly this morning. A large part of the town is under water and houses were washed away. At Marble Falls the waterworks power house was destroyed, and nearly all of that town is under water. Thousands of acres of crops are de-strayed.

The great dam here, which was erected at a cost of $1,000,000 a few years ugo, is having its first test of a flood. It is apparently bearing the terrible strain perfectly. The water is flowing over its creat to a height of fifteen feet. The depth of the lake formed by the dam is over eighty feet. The lake is forty miles long. The river is still rising at a rapid rate.

THE NUN OF KENMARE DEAD. Sister Margaret Anna Cusack's Great Work for the Irish People.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN LONDON, June 7.-Margaret Anna Cusack, known as the Nun of Kenmare, is dead,

Sister Margaret Anna Cusack, known as the Nun of Kenmare from the place in which she lived, was born in Ireland and educated in England. She was a convert, having become a Catholic during the Oxford movement. Her conversion was attributed to Cardinal Manning, with whom she was well acquainted. Previous to that she had been an Anglican nun. Miss Cusack's entrance into a convent took place soon after she joined the Roman Catholic Church. She then became a Sister of Mercy. Her most conspicuous work was her labor for the starving people of Ireland during the familie of 1873-80. She collected nearly $100,000 from ad parts of the world and distributed it among the needy people of her native land. Afterward she came to this country and took up her residence in New Jersey. She returned to Ireland in 1891. She founded the order of the Sisters of Peace of the Immaculate Conception and St. Joseph, having obtained the authority of Pope Leo in 1894. The principal object of this community was to add and instruct young Irish girls emikrating to America. The Nun of Kenmare was the author of between thirty and forty volumes. Amongher writings were a history of 2 leiland, a history of Kerry, a book for Irish girls in America and the "Life of the Great Aposte of the Irish People." Not long after issuing the volume Pope Plus IX wrote to her expressing admiration for her literary ability.

Several years ago Sister Margaret left the Catholic Church, sending a letter of withdrawal to Pope Leo. Later she was reconciled and died in the Roman Catholic faith. HANNA ON PUBLIC DUTY.

invs That the Rusiness Man Won in 1896. The Citizen and the Primary.

CLEVELAND, O., June 7 .- Senator Hanna made a speech last night at the Chamber of Commerce dinner on "Business in Politics," which pleased his hearers. "I do not care." said the Serstor, "to say anything upon polities or the political situation. I don't think this is the time or place for me to discuss them, but I merely wish to say one word with reference to the campaign of 1888, in which I took a part. I want to go on record among my friends here, and in confidence tell you that no factor, no influence, no power in those results was felt with greater force than the united action of the business men of the whole country. TWO BAD COWBOYS KILLED

After Terrorizing a Town a Deputy Sheriff

Et Paso, Tex., June 7.-News was received here to-day from Odessa, Tex., of the killing of two cowboys there yesterday by a deputy sheriff. Buck Reed and Eugene Kelly rode into town from a ranch. They came to have a good time. After filling up on "tanglefoot" whiskey they mounted their horses and rode through the streets at breakneck speed, discharging their revolvers in a reckless manner, terrorizing the inhabitants and driving every podestrian to ever. A message was despatched for Deputy Sheriff Joe Brown. He called on the cowboys to surrender, but instead of complying they turned their wearons on him.

The deputy sheriff was quick to pull his own six-shooter. When the smoke cleared away both cowboys' saddles were empty and the two men were found to be wounded mortally. Both died a few hours later.

The deputy sheriff escaped without a scratch and was exonerated from all blame by the good time. After filling up on "tan-

omplete Change-About in Doing Certain Work-Mayo Quincy's New Stand. Boston, Mass., June 7.-There are some contracts under consideration at the City Hall which promise to revolutionize the city's methods of doing municipal work, and they also seem to mark a square turn-about on the subject of municipal labor by Mayor Quiney. One of the contracts has already been signed. that for street lighting with the Rising Sun that for street lighting with the Rising Sun-corporation of Philadelphia. Now it is pro-posed to do away with the sanitary division of the city's Street Department by giving a con-tract for cleaning the streets to a Philadelphia company, the gardage to be collected in automo-bile earts. The street cleaning division is next to be equipped with automobiles and other sorts of sweepers, and then the last step will be taken to make the street watering division a centract place. About 1,000 city employees will be affected by this change. The cost of maintaining the departments mentioned has been about $5,000,000 a year. The city machine sees in the move the exit of the Democratic party and the tying up of the city for a period of years in the hands of contractors.
